I infer you received my letter written before leaving Valley Moun- tain, though you did not direct your letter 'via Lewisburg, Greenbrier County,' and hence its delay. But I want you to be in a place of safety. No better illustration of the nature and importance of the duty performed by General Lee, while in this position, can be given than the following letter – one of a number of similar import – written by him to General Jackson, the 'rough' or original draft of which is still in my possession:
